

Propose Committee for New Indian Land Study

By Oliver B. Jaynes

There are many important problems facing the city of Palm Springs that have grown out of its rapid progress during the past few years. By far the most important one is the orderly and sound assimilation of Indian reservation lands into an expansion of the city in a manner that will be to the mutual benefit of the Indians, people who live and operate businesses on the Reservation, our city government and the residents and business interests of Palm Springs in general. It is a complex problem but, if approached in the proper manner, is not without solution.

Plan after plan has been proposed in the past — only to be rejected by the Indians, the United States government or groups of Palm Springs residents.

This has been due largely to the promotional aspects of the proposals which have been made by private interests. All of them sought profit for those interests which may or may not have been justifiable. The stumbling block in most cases was the failure to recognize the rights of all parties concerned — specially the Indians.

The Desert Sun believes that a solution of the Indian land problem lies in it's being undertaken as a civic project — with all thought of profit, selfishness or special privilege removed. We have noted how many communities have solved all sorts of problems that seemed hopeless — and after almost all regular agencies had given up — by organizing a citizens committee which viewed the problem from the over-all community standpoint and went to work on it. We believe this is the logical approach to our number one problem.

It is our hope that some new and constructive thinking will be done on this subject — and along these lines — by civic-minded leaders of this community. It would be hard to find a community of this size which has as many intelligent, successful and community-minded men and women. We firmly believe that among them we could find many who would serve on a citizens committee to tackle this vital problem which is holding back the orderly and sound development of Palm Springs.

The first task of such a committee would be to gather all the facts; to have for their consideration in one report the entire picture of the Indian lands with a representation of the interests of every group and governmental agency concerned. From that we believe there could be devised a logical and long term plan for the assimilation of these lands in a manner that would satisfy the Indians and all others concerned. With an unselfish approach by an unbiased committee the conflicting interests of all parties could be solved by compromise.

No such an attempt has been made to our knowledge; certainly none in recent years. We do not believe that any definite plan should be even considered until a committee as proposed is formed and all the facts have been gathered.

Suggestions are invited. Let's get down to business and see if we cannot arrive at a solution of our number one problem like so many other communities have through the formation of a citizens committee which would have the respect and confidence of all.

Rink Challenges Critics to Produce Concrete Evidence

City Manager Russell Rink today answered critics who are circulating petitions asking that he resign or that council dismiss him.

Not angry or indignant toward petitioners for their action or the language used in the petitions, Rink accepted it as matter of course.

TO JOHN CONNORS
This sorry that I am, indeed, that I do not have the knack. To print this paper all in green and not the same old black.

And that isn't all, John... Tuesday I will not have my orange juice in the morning and I will not bring an orange in my lunch... Also, I will try to sing that song so popular a few years back... But I can't remember it... The title was something like "How are things in Cucamonga?"

WHILE on the subject of St. Patrick's day... Hildy Crawford was checking the city directory the other day to glean a list of Irish names so she could send greetings in her column, "Around the Town"... She remarked upon the absence of any "Finnegans" in town... I told her I

Woman Hurt as Car Rolls Down Bank

Miss Brooke Burwell of Jackson, Mississippi, suffered four fractured ribs on the right side and contusions and abrasions on the right arm and leg when her sports roadster dropped 50 feet down the ledge off the Los Lomitas Estates road Thursday afternoon.

Miss Burwell was pinned underneath the roadster. The accident occurred when the brakes on the car failed while Miss Burwell was attempting to turn the roadster around, investigating officers reported.

After receiving emergency treatment, Miss Burwell was taken by Wielef and Son ambulance to the Bell Ranch near Thousand Palms, where she is a guest of Mrs. C. Thurston Chase.

Miss Burwell, owner of a plantation near Jackson, is a racing enthusiast, and recently returned from Europe where she participated in several racing events.

Veterans were reminded again today that they may file tax exemption claims at World War Memorial Hall each Thursday and Saturday through March 9 a. m. until noon.

School Trustees Start Plans for Four New Rooms

Building and Grounds committee of the Palm Springs Unified School district recommended to the board of trustees Thursday evening that four additional rooms be constructed at the Nellie Coffman school.

No action on the recommendation was taken by the board during the meeting. This was the same recommendation submitted last week by Dr. Arthur Hoff, schools superintendent, who asked that construction be completed not later than September 1954. He estimated the cost of the project at $80,000, which could be secured from the current capital outlay fund of the district.

THE CONSTRUCTION of the rooms is part of the 10-year program. See SCHOOLS, Page 2a

Chamber's 'Build for Tomorrow' Program Begun

Inauguration of Palm Springs "Build for Tomorrow" program by Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce was announced Friday by President Frank Prince following a meeting of the board of directors.

A formal public statement "To the Citizens of Palm Springs" was adopted by the board, outlining broadly the plans and purposes of this program, to be developed during the next few weeks.

The main objective is to further expand and strengthen the community's entire program of business and civic promotions, so as to make the Palm Springs program superior to that of any other resort city in America, Prince pointed out.

HERMAN REICH and Joe Gamble are the two general co-chairmen, and they will select other chairmen to head the various divisions and committees for this movement, Prince announced.

The public statement issued by the board of directors said, in part: "The remarkable growth and development of Palm Springs as 'America's Foremost Resort' is most gratifying to all of us, and of course we have the utmost faith in our future."

"However, we recognize that our community cannot afford to assume that a still more brilliant future is automatically assured for Palm Springs or that our current united efforts toward that objective are fully adequate," the statement continued.

THE PROGRAM needs the counsel and assistance of the Chamber's members and all other

PREPARE FOR KID'S DAY—Ray Corliss (dropping peanuts) and Ed Kenyon, co-chairmen of the Kiwanis club's peanut sale Tuesday show other Kiwanians the easy way to fill the sacks. Kiwanians will sell the peanuts on March 17 for the benefit of the Underprivileged Children's Fund.

KIWANIANS PLAN PEANUT SALE TO AID CHILDREN

"Buy a bag of peanuts." That will be the cry of Kiwanians throughout the Village Tuesday when they conduct the first fund raising drive in the history of the club—with all proceeds going to its "underprivileged children's fund."

It's actually not a sale of peanuts for a set price, as the club members are seeking donations of any amount. Ed Kenyon and Ray Corliss, co-chairmen of the event, have set the price at $50 on down to the 10 cent regular price.

THE SEATTLE Baseball club is cooperating with the club and has designated the day as "underprivileged children's day" at the Polo Grounds. Kiwanians will circulate through the stands during the Rainiers game with the White Sox.

The local Kiwanis club has under way many projects to aid underprivileged children, and plans to expand this program when additional funds are available, President Ray Lusby said.

Some of the projects being undertaken now are: Physical examination for children in schools who are unable to pay the cost themselves, meal tickets and milk tickets for children in need.

HIRING of a special nurse to care for a bed-ridden youngster, which enables a girl of high school age to attend school. "We supplement other welfare agencies, and usually consider the 'borderline' cases which are turned down as not showing sufficient need by others," Lusby said.

He asked anyone not contacted during the peanut sale, and who wishes to donate, to send their contribution to him at 380 North Palm Canyon drive.

UNDERGOES SURGERY
Mrs. Percy Whiteside underwent major surgery at the Desert hospital Saturday morning.

SCHOOL CHILDREN were reminded this week in the Safety Slogans they memorize each Monday:

"Never play with matches." These slogans are issued once a week in the school district's campaign to make all children safety-conscious.

18 Now Seek Police Chief Position Here

Application deadline for the position of police chief will be tonight, City Manager Russell Rink announced.

Several more were received last weekend and there are now 18 applicants to succeed August G. Kettman who resigned effective February 28.

Evaluation of the applications will start this week and those who will be given a written examination will be notified next week. The examination itself will be given about the end of this month to about five men, Rink said.

Four local officers are included in the 18 applicants. Capt. Orest Johnson, who is serving as acting chief in the interim period; Sgt. Durman Ordway, Sgt. Jim Maynard and Officer Robert White.

The PUBLISHER'S Corner

YOU COULDN'T FIND more attractive shops anywhere in the country than those which were opened last week in the new Oasis Hotel building. They are the last word in modern merchandise display and functional arrangement and are a notable addition to the rapidly expanding business life of Palm Springs. Oasis Men's Shop, Dress Bender's fashions "Rags" for Women and the new M.F.K. drug store would be a credit to the Miracle Mile (Los Angeles), Lincoln Roads (Miami) or Worth Avenue (Palm Beach) which have the reputation of being among the nation's smartest shopping districts. The Western Hotels company under the leadership of Dewey W. Metzdorf, vice-president in charge of building operations here, has done a magnificent job in creating many new store and office accommodations in addition to their hotel. The entire project will represent an investment of two and a half million dollars when completed. It evidences the faith these men — like those who have re-built El Mirador and Sunset Towers — have in the future of Palm Springs.

NO MISTAKE THIS TIME... Dr. John R. Lechner, director of the American Educational League of Los Angeles, will be the speaker at the Rotary club next Wednesday. For twenty-five years the League has carried on a campaign to expose subversive propaganda and activities, and Dr. Lechner has been with the organization since it was founded as a non-profit, non-political organization. Dr. Lechner is a forceful speaker and has been heard here many times before. He has a son with the fighting forces in Korea.

NO ACTION ON NEW MUSEUM CURATOR PLANNED FOR SOME TIME, DECISION

Three new trustees and five incumbents were named to the board of directors of the Desert Museum at the annual meeting held Thursday evening at the Museum.

New trustees are Mrs. Earl Henderson of Palm Springs, and LaJolla, Ray Sorum of Palm Springs, and Fay Brainard of Palm Springs and Estes Park, Colorado. Re-elected were Frank Bennett, Mrs. Alexander Mar- cuse, Dr. D. H. McCauley, Stanley Rosin and Mrs. O. M. Ward.

More than 150 members attended the meeting, presided over by President Winfield H. Line.

NEW OFFICERS will be elected at a board meeting Tuesday night.

The full letter of resignation of Director Lloyd Mason Smith was read to the members. In part, the letter stated:

"After a great deal of deliberation and thought, I have definitely decided to resign as director of the Desert Museum. I shall be happy to assist in any way I can in the obtaining of the new director. You can be assured that I will continue to work and cooperate in every way. There is definitely nothing personal in my resignation."

Line read for the consideration of members excerpts from 28 letters of recommendation and application for the position of director which have been received so far. A number of the applicants have had high training and experience in museum work, he said.

NO ACTION on a successor will be taken by the board for some time, Line said, as a notice appearing in the March 15 issue of the Museum News, which is received by every museum in the United States, is expected to result in still more applications.

"Mr. Smith has done a fine piece of work here," Line said, "and we want to get the best man possible to carry on the work of the museum."

The board plans on improving the quality of the audio-visual programs next year, it was explained, and wants a man well-versed in geology, botany and desert lore to carry on the field trip program which has reached a high point of interest under Smith's guidance.

ALSO BEING STRESSED by the board is the ability to work with members, and help them develop themselves in museum interests, as well as to work with school children on natural history projects.

Reports on current Museum projects were made by Phil Boyd, on the 230 acre desert sanctuary which the Museum is projecting as a primitive area; by O. M. Ward on the Edmund C. Jaeger publication promotion of a book in color on the wild flowers of the desert.

By Dr. D. H. McCauley and Mrs. Chester Moorten on the Desert Arboretum project at North End Park; by Tom Kieley, treasurer, on the financial status of the museum, and by the director, Lloyd Mason Smith, on the past year's attendance and activities.

Letters from Tom Slaven, first president of the museum, and H. Earl Hoover, one of the original founders of the museum, were read.

gram planned by the board, Dr. Hoff said.

In other action, the board voted to have Weingarten and Hough Insurance Agency and Sampson and Curtis Agency continue as insurance consultants for the district.

Following the recommendation of its insurance committee, it agreed to divide 70 percent of the fire insurance carried by the district between the two consultant firms, and the other 30 percent among other qualified agents in Palm Springs.

It was provided, however, that commission for the Desert Hot Springs school go to Burrows Insurance Agency in Desert Hot Springs, and the commission for the Cathedral City School be divided between L. C. Lewis Insurance and Clark Insurance Agency in that city.

THE BOARD also approved that the two consultant firms write all other policies carried by the district.

A preliminary report of a new salary schedule for non-certificated employees was made by Ronald C. Henderson, school business manager.

Richard Bahlgren was employed as elementary school instrumental teacher to succeed the late Ben Petrone.

Reports Prowler
Virginia Hopkins, 526 Paseo El Mirador, reported a possible prowler at the rear of her home at 12:14 a. m., Saturday. Police were unable to locate any suspect.

Pat Wagner is Adjudged Winner in Lions Contest

Pat Wagner, high school student, was adjudged the winner in the annual Lions club Student Speakers contest Thursday at the Tennis club. Paul Summers, vice principal at Palm Springs high school, presided at the contest.

Other speakers were Alfred Goldenberg and Robert Wheeler. The judges were out for some minutes as their first ballot resulted in a three-way tie, each speaker being judged best.

Miss Wagner will now go on to area and zone contests and if successful, to the district finals.

ers who are genuinely interested in the future of Palm Springs, the directors declared, adding: "To this end, the Chamber will conduct a survey to obtain the best thinking and suggestions of our citizens concerning the needs. We invite your active interest and your wholehearted cooperation."

One of many features being considered for the program is the construction of an adequate Palm Springs Visitors' Center and Chamber of Commerce building, Prince said.

A SERIES of conferences of Chamber members and other citizens is being arranged to consider the needs of Palm Springs and to devise plans to meet those needs. One item for consideration will be the Visitors Center project.

At a later date, the Chamber will conduct a campaign for additional members and to provide adequate finances for the entire "Build for Tomorrow" Program, Prince said.

Bass Fishing Good
Bass fishing along the Colorado river, from Lake Mead to Blythe, was good last weekend, and indications are that it will continue the same, according to the Outing Bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

There are signs that the bass are spawning, which should make angling even better, the Outing Bureau added. The weather has been good. Best results have been on live bait and plugs.

Browns Even Up Rainier Series in 6 to 4 Victory

A wild first inning cost the Seattle Rainiers a ball game Thursday at the Polo Grounds when two walks and three hits netted the St. Louis Browns three runs.

The Suds made a ballgame two innings later but could not overhaul the Browns who scored once each in the fourth, sixth and ninth innings to go on and win, 6 to 4.

Each team rapped out 11 hits in the contest including one two-bagger and two triples.

The fans were treated to some mid-season catches and stops by fielders on both teams. The loss gave the Rainiers a 3-2 standing in exhibition games.

Desert Golf

by Helen Dettweiler

It seems that around these parts a few of the husbands of some of our female divot diggers have made some rash promises and are now furrowing their brows. Never underestimate the power of woman - isn't that a slogan often noted in one of our leading magazines? It really is true! First there was Merritt L. Joslyn who hadn't been doing so well with her golf as either she or her spouse had hoped so in a weak moment he promised her a champagne party with an unlimited number of guests if she ever broke 100. I think he must have smiled quite smugly as he spoke the words — so what did Mrs. Joslyn do --- went immediately to work on her game with lessons and devoted sessions of work on the practice tee. Her last two rounds, one of them in a tournament, have been 109 and 107! And another golfing husband promised his wife a very sizeable monetary reward if she ever beat him in a golf round. Said lady immediately signed up for a series of lessons and — do you have your check book handy and your pen well inked in readiness, Mr. Singer?

One of the finest rounds ever turned in on a local — or for that matter, any course, was carded a few days back by that popular pro at Tamarisk, Stan Kertes. He was touring his home course, the front nine, with Mary Benny and birdied each of the first four holes. As if that weren't sufficiently conducive to fame he dropped an ace on the fifth and came mighty near sinking a putt on the final green for a 29 had to be content with a mere 30, poor guy! Do you realize that's only 3 shots over even 3's! Something to really dream about . . .

One of our favorite guys who normally spends a great part of the winter season in the Palm Springs area has just shown up and we have all missed him -- so the welcome mat is spread for Monty Moncrief. He sold his house in the Springs and rumor has it that he's joining the host of folks who are building homes right on the Thunderbird course. He hardly had time to say hello to all his friends before he had changed to his spiked shoes, hit a few warm-up shots on the practice tee and was seen strolling down number one fairway with none other than Bing Crosby. Bing, by the way, is due to leave for Europe much too soon and of course we wish him a safe and good journey with lots of good golf on the other side of the waters.

In order to stimulate more golf among the women of the various golf clubs all over the United States, the Women's Western Golf Association, which is just about the top organization in golfing today, offered a "gold low net pin" to each course who evoked interest in their idea. There were to be six weekly events scheduled and the golf pin will be the award for the lowest four net scores. A player has the privilege of entering all six events and can take advantage of counting only the four lowest scores. In case of a tie, the Association has called for an 18 hole play-off. In conjunction with their regular ladies' day, Thunderbird selected, each Tuesday, beginning February 17, for this. Four rounds have already been played, and among the scores so far submitted (left) are Mrs. Ruth Manseau 75, 78, 78, 79; Mrs. Neva Lauppe 77, 79; Mrs. Emily DeWare 72, 79; Mrs. Virgil Studebaker 73, 76; Mrs. Phyllis Froggatt 80, 82, 78; Mrs. J. Swartzbaugh 83, 80; Mrs. Paul Prom, who is chairman of the event, 79, 82, 85, 88; Mrs. Alice Heffernan 73, 79. That 73 net of Mrs. Heffernan occurred on March 3 when she came very close to breaking into that charmed 70 circle with a fine 81 gross — and another who was on the "verge" for three successive rounds was Mrs. Emily DeWare.

This column would like to offer sincere congratulations to Gloria Fecht for her excellent showing in the Los Angeles Mid-Winter tournament. Gloria, you all know, went 37 holes in the finals before bowing out to the more experienced Ruth McCulab. And it took a birdie on that extra hole to turn the trick! Wednesday she traversed the final nine in 35 blows -- one under men's par -- I know, because I was playing with her that day! Each Tuesday is ladies' day at Thunderbird and the feminine swingers are turning in some mighty fine scores.

Upsetting the Hawaiian trend that has been so prevalent in the Village this season . . . you may very well see shamrocks on growing on the palm trees along Palm Canyon drive tomorrow . . . as every Irishman . . . and every pseudo Irishman . . . celebrates St. Patrick's Day . . .

Irish Eyes will be smiling . . . at the big Irish shindig the Fitzgeralds are throwing at El Mirador tomorrow night . . . and, begorra, Ireland never saw anything like it . . . Not an invitational affair . . . it will be in El Mirador Room and open to the public . . . There will be hats and clay pipes and favors . . . Irish songs and jigs . . . shillelaghs and a blarney stone . . . green carnations and green ice cubes . . . and little men dressed as leprechauns . . . In reality or in theory . . . the Irish flag will fly from El Mirador's tower . . . and it will be a great day for the Irish . . .

The Tennis club will be decked in green . . . for their annual St. Patrick's party tomorrow night . . . I don't know for sure but I rather expect . . . there will be some wearing of the green . . . at the Don Loper club tomorrow noon . . . There will be private parties in the Village . . . with St. Patrick motifs . . . and the night spot entertainment is likely to take on an Irish flavor . . . on March 17th . . .

Happy St. Patrick's Day to . . . the O'Briens, O'Connors, O'Days, O'Donnells, O'Haras, O'Hanlons, O'Flahertys, O'Neills, O'Rourke's, O'Tooles, O'Sullivan's . . . to the Murphys, the Flynns, Kellys, Ryans and Fitzgeralds . . . Pat O'Day, John Connors, Father O'Connor, Barrett O'Shea, Phil Regan . . . and a Top o' the Morning to all wearers of the green . . .

Making the Rounds
A lot of Villagers were making the rounds Thursday evening . . . looking at the underslung new Studebakers . . . and congratulating Belmont Sanchez and Gus Kettmann on the opening of the Studebaker agency here . . . That Jeannie is not only extremely attractive . . . she's spontaneous combustion on the drums . . . It was a large evening . . . I don't know how the rest of you would . . . but we stopped at the Saddle and Sirlin for some of those outsize cups of he-man coffee . . .

Fabulous Party
"The Pump Room comes to El Mirador" was the theme for a party hosted by James Hart (owner of Ambassador-East) . . . Wednesday night in the Starlight Patio . . . It was one of those fabulous parties that could happen only in Palm Springs . . . Sixty-five guests were entertained at the cocktail and chafing dish supper . . . The hors d'oeuvre table had a replica of the famous pump from Chicago's Pump Room . . . and the waiters were attired in Pump Room uniforms (red jackets, black satin breeches and hose) flown out from Chicago for the party . . . There was even a "blackamoor" coffee boy attired in green satin . . . and wearing the towering turban with three plumes . . . Supper was served in a private dining room . . . and lobster newburg, chicken a la king, and beef stroganoff were on the buffet . . . Above it were the flaming swords . . . that are a part of Pump Room tradition . . . Afterwards the party moved on to the Sarah Siddons' Wake (Supper Club) to hear Gwen Bari sing . . . Among the guests were . . . the Raymond Loewys, Mrs. George Machris, the George Barretts, William Perlberg, Mr. Allan Jones, Mrs. John McClure, the John Balabans, Mervyn Le-Roy, Monte Herberts, Edward

St. Patrick's Day Big Day at El Mirador

Tuesday morning when the sun rises, it no doubt will be green.

As a matter of fact everything in and around, above and below, will be green to a certain lineage of people who will be color blind come next Tuesday—St. Patrick's Day.

Of the many affairs that no doubt will be held in Palm Springs Tuesday, March 17, the one at El Mirador bids well to outdo in gaiety, decor and entertainment most of the parties scheduled to be held in cafes, night clubs and hotels.

Mr. Rudi O'Sidler (just plain Sidler any other day), manager of the hotel, announced that a famous entertainer of screen, radio and stage has been granted to appear before the gathered O's and sing a dozen or two ballads in that beautiful tenor voice of his. His name must not be told for obvious reasons but he will be there.

The menu replete with many Irish dishes carressed by certain sauces, handed down from one Irish father and mother to son and daughter will have as well the main piece of resistance namely: Corned beef and cabbage.

"Everybody will be warmly greeted and accepted into the party, that is, if he is wearing a bit of green," said E. Roy Fitzgerald.

Gaieties to be Presented as Benefit Event

Palm Springs Business Women will present "Gaslight Gaieties" for a return performance on March 21 at Wars Memorial hall. The melodrama, which made such a hit when it was presented in mid-February, will be brought back by popular demand and this time will be a benefit for St. Theresa's school.

An annual event, "Gaslight Gaieties" is staged with an all-woman cast, and stars Louise Purnell as the mustached villain, Wilma Oertle as the heroine and Helen Morris as the hero. The play, which is in its fifth season, is directed by Irwin Sussman and is presented in informal fashion with the audience seated at small tables. Olio acts between scenes add to the gaiety.

Arrangements for the benefit performance have been made by Warren Slaughter, president of the St. Theresa's Young People's organization.

Mrs. Earl Hough, who is in charge of ticket sales, advises that table reservations may be made with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Henderson had Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Flory of Thousand Oaks and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Corn and family of Bathoa as their houseguests over the weekend.

To that end, we employ only highly trained, experienced pharmacists. Our stock of fresh ingredients is one of the areas largest, including the rare ones not always to be had elsewhere. Visitors Mark 50th Wedding Day in Village

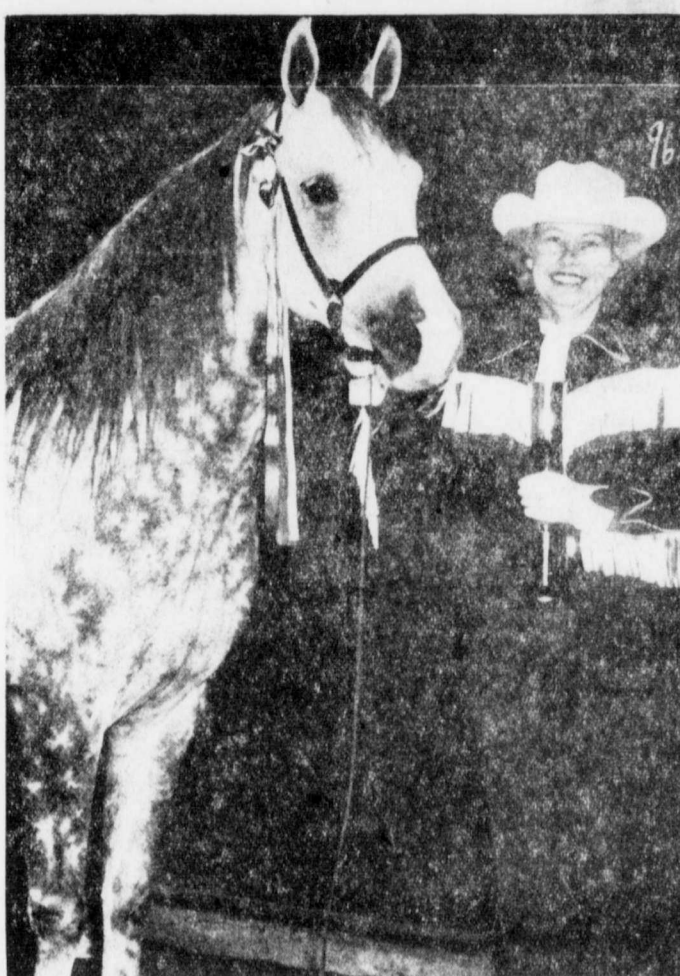

Here on a Fiftieth Anniversary honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Benz of Appleton, Wisconsin, are guests at the Del Tahquitz.

The charming couple actually celebrated their Golden anniversary in August with a reception that made the news as far away as Chicago. Among the 250 guests who helped them celebrate were the minister who had married them and all their wedding attendants, making it a very happy occasion.

Mr. Benz recently retired as president but is still chairman of the board of directors of the Aid Association for Lutherans, largest fraternal life insurance society in the country.

As they have a daughter living in Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Benz occasionally visit in California. This is their second visit in Palm Springs.

They have five children and 12 grandchildren.

Cahuilla PTA to Hold Morning Koffee Klatch

Due to the inability of many mothers to arrange to attend afternoon or evening PTA meetings, Cahuilla PTA is trying something new. Tomorrow's meeting will be a Koffee Klatch, with coffee and doughnuts served at 9:30 a. m. in the school cafeteria.

Featuring the St. Patrick's Day program will be a unique fashion show, with the children modeling garments made for them by mothers or grandmothers. The garments will include both new and remodeled clothing, from socks to caps. Mrs. Sidney O. Noles Jr., Cahuilla PTA president, said all mothers who sew are invited to enter garments for their children to model. Smaller items of handiwork will be displayed on tables.

Caroline Leonetti of the School of Charm, Caroline Leonetti Ltd., will speak informally, giving hints on charm, modeling and self-improvement.

Clifford Campbell Honored at Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. John Hollinger, 1057 Buena Vista drive, were hosts Tuesday evening at a birthday dinner honoring Clifford Campbell.

Many Articles for Rummage Sale Received

Lots of fine children's clothing and a superb collection of jewelry has come in for the Sixth Annual Rummage Sale to be held by the Guild of St. Paul's in the Desert in the parish house at 125 West El Alameda on Saturday, March 21. Mrs. Al Hoover, general chairman, reported today.

"This will be a festival of famous finds," she said. "This particular rummage sale is always one of the biggest of the year and so much merchandise will be on sale that it will be arranged in department store style."

Housewives are reminded that Spring housecleaning time is a good opportunity to clear out the garage, unclutter the closets and dispose of outgrown clothing and unwanted articles and at the same time aid in this worthy cause.

Donors are asked to mark the correct size on garments and to tie the shoes in pairs and mark the size.

The parish house is open each morning to receive contributions for the rummage sale, Mrs. Hoover advised.

Gen Dirnberger came out from Westwood Village on Monday to spend a few days with her mother, Mrs. Bernadine Dirnberger, and family.
